of monetary and fiscal policy on aggregate demand, and the short-run trade-off between inflation and unemployment. To complete this course, each student is required to use Cengage's MindTap to have access to the online homework assignments. The class will not meet physically and announcements will be through Canvas. Please pay close attention to announcements and deadlines.

4 Course Learning Outcomes and Program Learning Objectives

This course fits into the following Department of Economics program learning objectives (PLO).

PLO 1: Macroeconomics

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to demonstrate the following:

CLO 1: Explain core concepts in macroeconomics.

CLO 2: Use macroeconomic models to examine, assess, and criticize policies, projects and other current events.

5 Required Texts/Readings

5.1 Primary Textbook

Principles of Macroeconomics 8th Edition, N. Gregory Mankiw

ISBN-13: 978-1305971509 ISBN-10: 1305971507

6 Assignments and Grading Policy

This is a pass or fail course. To pass, you are required to

- 1.

6.1 Homework

There will be 17 homework assignments. Each homework assignment has varying number of questions/points and therefore weighted differently. Homework assignments, altogether, have 319 points. To achieve the passing score of 70% you must accumulate a minimum of 224 points over the semester. Starting from August 30th, homework assignments are due on Fridays 5:00 PM every week. For a detailed list of readings and corresponding assignments see Table 1.

6.2 MindTap

Be sure to acquaint yourself with the MindTap website and notice the specific due dates. Use this link to sign up for the course:

<https://www.cengage.com/dashboard//course-confirmation/MTPNJDFNLRV1/initial-course-confirmation>

Through the MindTap website you will get access to the interactive textbook, instructional videos, practice problems, and homework assignments. Deadlines are very important in this class. Starting from the second week of the semester, homework assignments are due every week on Fridays 5:00 PM.
