

operations and supports its mission to solve work-related transportation challenges by delivering a full suite of financially and environmentally responsible mobility services via an innovative platform for corporations and campuses.

Dave e

As Managing Director for the US, Dave Ballon leads flexigo's US operations and supports its mission to solve work-related transportation challenges by delivering a full suite of financially and environmentally responsible mobility services via an innovative platform for corporations and campuses.