

San Jose State University
Department of Justice Studies

Justice Studies major requirements

Course Format

The mode of instruction for this course is asynchronous and online. Reliable access to a computer and internet will be required. All written assignments will be submitted via Canvas, and must be in PDF format (*.doc or *.docx). If you do not currently own Windows software (both PC and Mac) is available free to students <http://www.sjsu.edu/it/services/collaboration/software/instructions.php>

Canvas Course Page and E-mail

Copies of course materials will be posted on Canvas. You are responsible for regularly checking Canvas regarding announcements, reminders, and any additional course materials. The majority of course materials, excluding the textbook, will be posted in PDF format; if you choose to download them, you will need Adobe Reader to view the documents. There is no cost to download Adobe Reader (<http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/teach/adobe/students/index.html>). Some course materials may need to be accessed via the internet (i.e., web sites).

E-mail Policy

Feel free to e-mail the instructor at any time (I check several times per day). Please adhere to the e-mail guidelines below:

1. Please include in the "subject line" the course number, your name, and a specific description of your inquiry or comment (e.g., JS136, Your Name). The instructor will respond to "subject line" e-mails, or any e-mail where the student is not identified in either the subject line or the body of the message.
2. E-mailed inquiries should be relatively short in nature. Students should make an appointment with me to discuss more extensive inquiries. Students will be referred to the course syllabus with questions that are addressed by simply reading the syllabus.

students will only be able to post during said time Full credits (i.e., points) for each posted topic will require at least 3 substantive posts, one original post and two replies to your posts. Timely completion of these assignments will count towards course participation.

In order to demonstrate comprehension of the course material, one must be able to write in a clear and concise manner. Always carefully proofread your assignments before submitting them. Late submissions will not be accepted unless a valid, documented, and verifiable reason is provided.
