

E-mail Policy

Feel free to email the instructor at any time (I check several times per day), however, please adhere to the email guidelines below:

1. Please include in the "subject line" the course number, your name, and a specific description of your inquiry or comment (e.g., JS104, Your Name, subject). The instructor will not respond to "no subject" e-mails, or any email where the student is not identified in either the subject line or body of the email.
2. E-mailed inquiries should be relatively short in nature. Students should utilize Zoom office hours to discuss more extensive inquiries. Students will be referred to the course syllabus with respect to questions that are addressed by simply reading the syllabus.

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to [1-6]:

1. develop a critical understanding of historical and contemporary changes in penal policies.
2. analyze punishment as a socially constructed and culturally determined social practice.
3. connect penal policies to broader transformations taking place in the economy, culture, and politics
4. analyze the impact of penal policies on existing structures of racial, economic, ethnic, and gender inequality

Grading Policy and Late Submissions

Written assignments will primarily be graded on content; however, poor writing mechanics and APA formatting will result in a lower grade.
