Tips for Online Learning

- If you are new to Canvas, please visit the Canvas Guide for Students: https://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/teachintpols/canvas/student_resources/index.html
- Download the Canvas mobile app to your smartphone so that you will have access to the course if you are away from a computer
- Login to class every other day so that you do not miss important announcements and assignment deadlines, and set reminders on your phone
- Bookmark frequently visited course sites and resources so that you can there to study for tests

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to pursue their studies with honesty and integrity. When students have a person other than themselves take a test or complete an assignment; cut and paste writing from a source in parties in without giving proper credit; accept, buy, or copy the work of another; share or sell their own work; lie, cheat, or otherwise misrepresent their work product, they have committed the serious offense of academic dishonesty If you cheat, copy, or mispresent your work in this class in any way, including citation, you will receive a 0 on the assignment and the incident will be reported to the Office of Student Conduct. You are expected, in all classes, to do your own thinking and writing turned no your best original work.

Forensic Science Student Group (FSS)

Forensic Science Students is a campus group open to all students interested in forensic science. The group meets biweekly during the semester and offers friendship, forensic scienced activities, networking opportunities, and mentorship. Members of the FSS participate and assist at conferences, CSI camps, guest speaking events, and other extrairricular activitiesContact sjsu.fss@gmail.com or visit their website https://sites.google.com/site/forensicsciencestudents/horforemore. more information and to apply

Justice Studies Reading and Writing Philosophy

The Department of Justice Studies is committed two sarly excellence. Therefore, the Department promotes academic, critical, and creative engagement with language (i.e., reading and writing) throughout its curriculum. A sustained and intensive exploration of language prepares students to think caincally act meaningfully in interrelated areas of their lives ersonal, professional, economic, social, political, ethical, and cultural. Graduates of the Department of Justice Studies leave San José State University prepared to enter a range of careers achfor advanced study in a variety of fields; they are prepared to more effectively identify and ameliorate injustice in their personal, professional and civic lives. Indeed, the impact of literacy is evident not only within the span of a specific course, we ster, or academic program but also over the span of a lifetime.

Instructor

Eric Kwong is an alum of SJSU's Forensic Science program, earning his BS in Forensic Science from the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow, Scotlan While at SJSU he was the President of