San José State University

College of Social Sciences Department of Justice Studies JS 151-81, Criminological Theory, Fall 2022

Course and ContactInformation

Instructor : Natalie Birthelmer

Office

self-motivated independent study. All coursework must be thorough, complete, and thought full reveal command the course content as well as critical reading, writing, speaking, and thinking.

Theory Application Papers (CLO3)

Each student will write two (2) theory application papers in order to learn to evaluate and apply criminological theories. Topics for each paper, as well as further instructions detailing the expectations, content, formatting, and submission requirements for each assignment will be provided on Canvas. Students must reference any sestion APAstyle formatting. Students should refer to an APA style guide or the Excelsior Online Writing Laf 0 1 rg TDpo6 71J 0 Tc 0 T (i)0.6f7 (i)0.u.7 (s)11.6 (c ( O)11e3 0 Td I)0.7 ( all

Grading Information

Grade Determination n180.2 682 76 13.8 re W n BT 21 180.2 6816 (n).6 T108 r7T.2 0.1.4 0.____

Total Percent	Grade	Point Range
98.0 to 100	A plus	490-500
94.0 to 97.99		