

NEW LEADERSHIP

Welcome new SJSU President and LCOB Dean!

Dr. Mary A. Papazian was formally inaugurated as the university's 30th president on May 4th. Festivities were held on Tower Lawn with the Investiture Ceremony that featured a number of dignitaries and special visitors to our campus.

Papazian joined San Jose State University as its 30th president on July 1, 2016. Papazian—a Southern California native—is firmly committed to student success; open, transparent and inclusive leadership; fostering a culture of curiosity and discovery; and building enduring campus and community partnerships.

Before coming to SJSU, Papazian was president of Southern Connecticut State University in New Haven, Connecticut. Previously, Papazian was the provost and senior vice president for Academic Affairs at Lehman College of The City University of New York. She also served as the dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Montclair State University in New Jersey, and as associate dean of the College of Arts and Science at Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan, where she began her academic career as an assistant, associate and tenured professor of English.

Papazian holds bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in English from the University of California, Los Angeles.

Dr. Dan Moshavi joined SJSU in February, 2017 as dean of the Lucas College and Graduate School of Business. Dan previously served as professor of management and dean of the business schools at both Dominican University of California and Montana State University. He began his academic career at San Jose State as an assistant professor in the late 1990s.

Dan has extensive higher education administrative experience in strategic positioning, fundraising, community and alumni engagement, interdisciplinary program development, university operations, and faculty and staff development, and has led and managed initiatives focused on diverse and first generation student populations. Dan's teaching, research and consulting focuses on leadership, high performance teams, change management, and attitudes and emotions in the workplace. He has consulted for a variety of organizations, including health care institutions, universities and municipalities. He has been a faculty member in an executive master's program at the University of Lugano in Switzerland and has served as a research fellow with the Nemours Center for Medical Leadership.

A skilled facilitator and instructor, Dan has won more than a dozen teaching awards during his career including the university-wide teaching award at Montana State. Prior to his academic career, he worked in industry in marketing and public relations. Dan received his Ph.D. in management from the University of Oregon as well an MBA and a B.A. (international affairs) from George Washington University in Washington DC.

Scheduled Conferences

- 5th Annual IRS-SJSU Small Business Tax Institute – June 22, 2017
- 33rd Annual TEI-SJSU High Tech Tax Institute— November 13 & 14, 2017

For more information, visit www.tax-institute.com

Prospective Students

<http://www.sjsu.edu/lucasgsb/programs/mst/prospective/index.html>

Connect with us:

<http://goo.gl/AisH7f>

@sjsutax

SJSU | LUCAS GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Individuals eligible to enroll in the MST Program or who already have an MST may take courses via Open University.

To learn more, visit:

<http://tinyurl.com/sjsumstopenu>

ALUMNI NEWS

Gary Fleishman, PhD, CPA, MST

Gary Fleischman, PhD, CPA is a professor of taxation and energy accounting in the Rawls College of Business of Texas Tech University. Gary is also the Accounting PhD advisor and has 21 years of experience teaching at the collegiate level.

Gary started his career in January 1987 with Deloitte, Haskins and Sells where he worked 4 1/2 years in tax. While at Deloitte, Gary decided to take courses at San Jose State University to pursue more detailed knowledge about the complex tax issues that he worked with daily.

He learned from excellent tax professors, including Annette Nellen and Stewart Karlinsky. He received his MST Degree in 1991. Because the MST was so helpful, Gary decided to pursue his Ph.D. in accounting and taxation at Texas Tech University. Gary received his PhD in 1995 and started his career as a full-time professor.

Gary has published over 100 articles, in venues such as Contemporary Accounting Research, Behavioral Research in Accounting, Journal of Managerial Accounting Research, Accounting Horizons, and Journal of Business Ethics. The state of Hawaii is currently changing their tax law based on an article that he wrote with Dr. Terry Jalbert (University of Hawaii).

Gary married Donna in 1996, and has four children, three girls and a boy. During his personal time, Gary enjoys hiking, camping, cycling, and jogging. Gary has participated in 30 marathons and ultramarathons. He estimates that he has jogged well over 50,000 miles during his adult life.

Gary encourages people who are interested in taxation to pursue an MST. He notes that the MST helped him better understand intricate tax issues and groomed him to become an effective tax professional, CPA, and ultimately a better tax professor. Gary's advice is for students to work to the best of their ability and to take pride in their work. Gary also advocates that students never compromise their integrity despite peer pressure. Finally, Gary cautions that students try to live "balanced" lives by carefully considering the demands of work while also pursuing meaningful personal enriching activity, family, and faith. Without these latter comm7,5.7(n)10ent of el4.9(-)2.6(vf b)ianced6. Gf easuchcs frlbus,e10es oare