Course Description

We are examining how the brain processes information and generates the illusion of your reality. This class will reinforce basic scientific concepts as we delve into new territory of vision, language, memory, attention and other domains of cognitive psychology.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

The objective is to distinguish fundamental principles of cognitive function in vision, attention, memory and language.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

Navigate and discriminate the scientific literature in cognitive psychology in areas relevant to cognitive psychology (vision, attention, memory, and other domains of cognitive psychology).

It is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to make sure you set aside time in a quiet undisturbed location on that day with ample time to complete it. Requests for exam date changes will be considered for extenuating circumstances with a doctor's note, if you have more than two exams on the same day, you are a parent or have suffered unforeseen hardships due to the pandemic.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current Catalog Poog Po
