Course Description

SPAN 140B: Spanish American Literature. Notable works from beginning to present.

Expanded description: This course offers a panoramic study of Latin American literature from early 20th century Modernismo to contemporary literature. In class, we will analyze diverse genres (poetry, short stories and essays) in historical and cultural contexts. Students will develop an extended written project focusing on one of the texts studied.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CLO 1) Demonstrate proficiency in reading unabridged works of Spanish American literature;
- CLO 2) Demonstrate knowledge of Spanish American culture from the early 20th century to modern times;
- CLO 3) Demonstrate knowledge of literary terminology and analysis;
- CLO 4) Demonstrate awareness of indigenous perspectives, women writers, and Hispanic American literary expression;
- CLO 5) Demonstrate ability to engage in comparative perspectives on literature;

CLO 6) Demonstrate knowledge of Information Literacy – How to access and use sources appropriately for oral and written reports.

Required Texts/Readings

Voces de Hispanoamérica 5th edition, Chang Rodríguez and Filer

With each movie you will:

1. Watch the complete movie before the due date indicated. Most are on youtube, but several will be available at the Media Center at Clark Hall 208.
2. Select one scene and analyze it in the context of what you have read and learned in class. Don't forget to describe the style and technique of the scene. (write at least 250 words). This is not a description of the action, but rather your judgment about what the scene means or how and why it impacts the viewer.
3. Save your observation to the Canvas discussion group for that film.
