

Activity

Rewrite the following sentences, eliminating meaningless or redundant words. You may have to modify the sentence structure.

1. When I asked her about the new job, she sort of looked at me with anger and basically did not reply.
2. Now that Bob has truly been fired, appealing to the CEO is kind of useless.
3. Each individual will receive a free gift during the ceremony.
4. Committee members first began by discussing the new marketing plan; then they presented the true facts about foreign imports from Belgium.
5. Anthropologists really believe these old fossils are absolutely crucial to uncovering our past history.

1. When I asked her about the new job, she looked at me with anger and did not reply.
2. Now that Bob has been fired, appealing to the CEO is useless.
3. Each individual will receive a gift during the ceremony.
4. Committee members first discussed the new marketing plan; then they presented the facts about imports from Belgium.
5. Anthropologists believe these fossils are crucial to uncovering our history.